IKE SAYS AIR POWER DOMINANT FACTOR IN WAR

REPLY MADE BY CANDIDATE TO SEN. TAFT

Washington (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today he has instantly contended that the dominant factor in any future war will be air power. At the same time, he said he wishes anyone who believes the foot soldier can be eliminated would "show me how to do it."

Eisenhower, holding a news conference at the Pentagon, was asked about last Sunday's statement by Sen. Robert A. Taft that there has been a steady deterioration of U. S. air power which began while the general was Chief of Staff.

Eisenhower said he was ready to comment "on the record."

Eisenhower added that he himself "instantly started" after World War II to cooperate in divorcing air power from the ground forces.

Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, retired Air Force leader, "was my companion and associate" and "I stood with him on 70 Air Force groups, Eisenhower continued, adding that he were whittled down."

Then he declared that the dominant power in any future war "is going to be air power."

Eisenhower's comments were sharply pointed up by the fact he said Taft are the front-running candidates for the Republican presidential nomination.

Besides alleging a deterioration of U. S. air power, Taft in Sunday's radio speech hit at what he called "the fallacies of our land generals."

He said one of these is that "a war against Russia can only be won on the continent of Europe."

Just freed from his assignment as supreme commander of Western Defense Forces in Europe, Eisenhower said Europe has special factors of importance for the United States.

"If Europe fell into the Communist orbit we would be very badly placed," the general said.

Eisenhower met with about 100 swimmers at the Pentagon a short time before retiring at his own request—without pay from the army he has served 37 years.

Retirement left him free to campaign actively, if he wished, for presidential nomination.

He is leaving before nightfall for a home town of Abilene, Kans., to give his first speech as a civilian since his name was entered in the GOP nomination contest.

Eleven minutes late for the news conference, Eisenhower posed briefly for photographers, then apologized for tardiness with an explanation that he had been undergoing an eye examination. The general has had an attack of myopia.

Three Primaries and a State Convention Hold Spotlight In Presidential Votes Scramble

By The Associated Press

Primaries in three states and a convention in a fourth formed a political backdrop today as Gen. Dwight Eisenhower swapped his military career for a chance to be President.

At his own request, the five-star general is retiring without pay from the Army he has served for 37 years. After a final round of conferences in Washington—including a meeting with newsmen at the Pentagon—he heads for his Kansas home.

In South Dakota and California, Republican and Democratic primaries alike were selecting presidential-nominating delegates. Democratic delegates were being chosen in an Alabama primary and in a Maryland convention.

Taft and Eisenhower were rated neck-and-neck for South Dakota's 14 GOP votes. It is their last clear-cut joust before the July 7 convention.

The Democratic race there, by comparison, was mild. Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee is conceded a favorite over a state organization slate pledged to Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.

Republicans take top billing in California, too, where 70 GOP and 65 Democratic delegates votes are at stake. Officials look for 3,600,000 votes from the 5,300,000 registration.

California Gov. Earl Warren is backed by the state's leading Republican in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination. He has accused political foes of waging a hate campaign and, last night, said they spent a half-million dollars in an effort to defeat him.

Kefauver and Taft are front runners in the Associated Press tabulation of nationwide delegate strength. The tally—based on concessions, pledges, instructions and avowed preferences and not including today's results—shows:

Republican—Taft 420, Eisenhower 387. Nomination requires 604.

Democrat—Kefauver 150, Russell 86½, W. Averell Harriman 85½. Nomination needs 616.

East Side Meeting To Discuss School

East Side residents interested in the attempt to retain three grades in the South Street school after completion of the new elementary school in Conewango avenue, have called a meeting for 7:30 this evening in Penn Bowling Center, 710 Pennsylvania avenue, east.

Determined to keep their younger children from making the long trek necessary to reach other schools in the event South Street school is ultimately closed, the large number of East Siders interested in the drive to keep South Street from being closed completely have asked all interested parties to meet with them tonight at 7:30.

It is understood that an organization will be formed tonight and directors named to represent East Siders in conferences with the Warren Board of School Directors.

Retailers to Help Usher in With Bang Opening of Ticket Sales for the Circus

At their regular monthly meeting, Monday night, in the private dining room of the Blue and White restaurant, members of the retailers' committee of the Warren Chamber of Commerce decided to do their part toward ushering in with a bang the first days of ticket sales for the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus by offering special values at the stores, June 20 and 21.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the appearance of the circus in Warren on Friday, July 18, will open local ticket sales at Kinnear's store, 425 Liberty street, on June 20.

J. Russell Hanson, general chairman, presided. Thirteen of the 20 members were present. Also in attendance were E. L. Stein (guest), and Nat W. Drake, Chamber secretary.

Communication on a Subject of Vital Interest to All Public Spirited Citizens

Warren, Pa., May 31, 1952.
Editor of the Times-Mirror,
Warren, Pa.
Dear Mr. Lowrey:

I am writing on a matter that I believe every public minded citizen of Warren should be interested in—namely, the Warren General Hospital. I cannot understand why the citizens of Warren have not risen up on their hind legs and demanded that an investigation be made of conditions relative to the construction of the new addition. One of the most glaring pieces of inefficiency and lack of business principles was the purchase of the Statue of Hippocrates that "graces" the main entrance to the institution.

To the best of my knowledge, the directors did not secure bids for this statue, but went ahead and purchased it without any investigation whatsoever as to what it could have been purchased for elsewhere. I have been told, or read it somewhere, that the original price on the statue was to be $5000., but before it was delivered, the price had risen to $8000., owing to the alleged increase in the cost of materials, which in this case would mean a lump of stone, which could be bought on the open market for not more than a couple hundred dollars.

You published in a recent issue of the Times-Mirror, a letter from a New York sculptor quoting a price of $2,200 for a statue of approximately the same size as the one that was purchased for $8,000, and for something that could be very well be done without at this time.

Raiding Students Are Reinstated At Cornell University

Ithaca, N. Y. (AP)—Cornell University has reinstated 25 students who confessed participating in a radio broadcast of phony war bulletins.

The faculty committee on student conduct, which had suspended the students for a year, announced last night it was lifting the suspensions. The committee said it had received "additional information" at its second hearing on the incident.

The nature of the information was not disclosed.

Several campus big shots were reported to be among the 25.

The committee announced the penalties last Thursday, the night after a student-operated radio station, WVBR, was raided by 10 masked students. The suspensions for the entire 1952-53 school year, were to go into effect Thursday, last day of classes for the current year.

Last night's action will enable seniors among the 25 to graduate with their classmates Monday instead of in 1953.

Ten of the 25 donned Halloween masks, seized two announcers and a girl engineer and broadcast fake war reports for eight minutes. The fake bulletins said that London and Marseille had been bombed by Russian-type planes and that an air armada was nearing North America.

Puerto Rican Must Die for Attempt On Life of President

Washington (AP)—The Supreme Court has refused to interfere with executions of a Puerto Rican who tried to assassinate President Truman and of a Nisei whose brutality caused American GI deaths in a Japanese prisoner of war camp.

The high tribunal, after deciding yesterday that President Truman's steel seizure was illegal, handed down rulings in these capital cases along with a series of other decisions.

The Puerto Rican, Oscar Collazo, took part in the Blair House assassination attempt of Nov. 1, (Turn to Page Seven)

LABOR DISPUTE IN WARREN UNCHANGED

When a Federal mediator may arrive in Warren to conduct conferences between the Struthers-Wells Company and members of Local Union 1328, American Federation of Machinists, who are out on strike, could not be predicted today by a spokesman for the company. He said, however, that the Federal representative may arrive any time within two weeks.

The only section of the plant affected by the strike is the mechanical department except that a few timekeepers have been laid off because of lack of work.

The company spokesman said this afternoon that the picketing and the strike are being carried on in an orderly manner. About 360 men are now on strike.

Miners Laid Off for Duration And Thousands of Railroaders Anticipate Similar Furloughs

Pittsburgh (AP)—Production faded to a dribble today in the day-old steel strike. Allied unemployment mounted.

An estimated 26,000 coal miners who produce coal for steel-making furnaces have been laid off for the duration. Thousands of railroaders awaited similar furloughs.

The steel industry fell from a daily production of more than 300,000 tons to a tiny fraction of that amount 24 hours after the Supreme Court ruled the government had no right to seize the industry April 8.

President Philip Murray of the CIO United Steelworkers ordered his 650,000 workers in basic steel to drop their tools as soon as they heard the decisions. His men won't work without a contract, Murray vowed.

The walkout is orderly across the nation. The giant U. S. Steel Corp. said some of its plants were not even being picketed. With the industry closed down tight, there was little for pickets to do any place but idly pace in front of plant gates.

The White House was silent on what might be done.

Presidential Secretary Short opened his morning news conference by telling reporters: "I don't have anything to tell you about steel."

He would not answer any questions.

The trickle of production left as accounted for by films like Weirton Steel Co., in Weirton, W. Va., and Steubenville, O., which deal with independent unions and by companies like Kaiser Steel, which have signed agreements with the union.

Pres. Truman Has Three Choices For Action in Dispute

Washington (AP)—A bitter, all-out strike shut the vast steel industry down tight today and the White House weighed its next peace move in the six-month-old union-management struggle.

Leaders of both the industry and the striking CIO Steelworkers' Union suggested renewed contracts talks but neither side proposed a date for negotiations.

Unless the contenders get together soon, it was believed President Truman would take some new action to end the strike—because the walkout is costing the nation and its crucial defense effort 300,000 tons of steel daily.

Truman had about three choices: (1) Sit tight, awhile, to see what the industry and union may accomplish on their own. (2) Invoke the Taft-Hartley Law's 80-day court injunction provisions against a continued strike, or (3) Ask Congress for special legislation to deal with the situation.

A high administration official expressed a personal opinion that Truman would invoke the T-H act, as many members of Congress have demanded. Other Truman advisers reportedly were counselling against this, favoring the appeal to Congress.

The Supreme Court ruled 6-3 yesterday that the president's April 8 order taking over the steel industry was unconstitutional.

Truman remained silent on the high court's decision, but Congress members generally applauded it, with some exceptions. Sen. Lehman (D-Lib.-N. Y.) for example, viewed the ruling with dismay.

Barring a quick industry-union agreement, the country seemed in for a steel strike of at least a week's duration.

Any Truman appeal for special legislation probably would face tough sledding on Capitol Hill.

Arrangements Are Being Completed For Entertainment of Two Foreign Students

The two foreign students who will be entertained in Warren this summer will be arriving on June 26 and July 25, according to word just received by the Woman's Club, one of the community groups sponsoring the Summer Student Program.

As in 1951, two young persons of outstanding ability and a knowledge of English have been selected to come to Warren for a six-week stay, that they may learn how Americans live and that we, in turn, may have a better understanding of their homes and lives.

The young man will be Thomas Kennedy Dalziel Thom, of Colchester, Essex, England; 22 years old, a second lieutenant in the Royal Army, and holder of two scholarships to Cambridge. At present studying history at Pembroke College of the university, he will arrive here June 26.

Marge Schmitz will arrive in this country from Germany on July 18. Her home is in Hanover; she is 23 years old; is much interested in international relations and is a student in the Hanover Technical College.

This gesture toward international understanding on the part of Warren is made possible through the cooperation of many individuals and civic-minded organizations.

The committee for the Warren Foreign Student Program is made up of representatives from each of the following groups: Borough council, Warren Borough Teachers Association, Warren Business and Professional Women's Club, College Club, Girl Scout Council, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary, Phalanx Fraternity, Woman's Club and Zonta Club.

Any persons wishing to open their homes to one of these young people for a week are asked to call Mrs. Spencer Myer, 2209, or Mrs. Robert Israel, 3554, for dates to be set aside. It is not necessary to have other young persons in the home to benefit from the entertainment program, it is pointed out by the committee.

Those who wish to interview one or both of the guests, or arrange to have them speak at gatherings, are asked to call Mrs. James Conner, 1895, to help arrange that schedule.

Contributions to the program fund by individuals are welcomed, checks may be made to The Warren Foreign Student Program and mailed to Mrs. Fred Plummer, 805 West Fifth avenue.

Camping Season Plans Are Discussed At Meeting of Boy Scout Executive Board

Featured by a large attendance, an outdoor meeting of the Executive Board and Commissioner Staff of Warren County Council, Boy Scouts of America, last night heard committees report on work leading to the annual camping season at Camp Olmsted and learned from Council President Byron W. Knapp that a trust fund gift of $5,000 has been received from the estate of the late Mrs. J. P. Jefferson, widow of the philanthropist who contributed generously to Scout activities before his death.

The meeting was held at the recreation area on the Henry Danielson place near Pittsfield after those present had enjoyed a delectable repast prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Danielson and their daughters and served beside the fishing pool in as beautiful a setting as could be found in the county. Close-cropped lawns extending along the pool, reflecting dogwood and fruit trees in bloom, ending in a little grove where an immense grill, presided over by Mr. Danielson and his aides, turned out a generous array of picnic viands onto the white-covered tables for the group's enjoyment. The enticing aroma of steaming coffee lured the visitors as they drove in from the highway, and the dinner was topped off with huge slabs of home-made apple pie and cheese.

Appreciation was voiced by the men for Mrs. Jefferson's gift, and it was decided that action will be taken at the next meeting to use the revenue from the fund for upkeep at Camp Jeffmore.

Bill Wehner, reporting for the activities committee, said much was accomplished at Olmsted during the recent Scouters' workfest and announced that another one-day work bee will take place this Saturday, June 7. It was decided to undertake certain major improvements there, with the aid of Cal Barwis, in advance of camp opening. In planning the next workfest, Mr. Wehner remarked that he had never had such cooperation as was given him during the previous week-end of work.

Training program achievements were reported by John Kirk while an important report by I. S. Brumagin, finance chairman, revealed to what an extent the Council's needs have risen. Amazing increases are shown in the number of boys being reached by the Scouting program in Warren

Plans Announced by Jaycees Committee For Coming Celebration Queen Contest

The question crowding into the limelight in Warren right now is "Who is to be the Fourth of July Queen?"

The committee in charge of this important project, staged in connection with the annual Jaycees Fourth of July celebration, is composed of Dick Munch, chairman, and these capable workers: Bob Johnson, Ardell (Sparky) Saylor and Warren Paul. These boys have been working late the past month lining up what is expected to be the greatest Queen Contest ever held in Warren.

The celebration starts June 27 with the selection of five girls for the Royal Court. The selection will be followed by a dance, with music to be furnished by the Nazzaro quartet. An evening of fun has been planned and the public is invited.

The selection and coronation of the queen will take place July 3. The queen will be chosen from the royal court by a panel of judges composed of celebrities from radio station WGR in Buffalo, N. Y.

The contest will be governed by a point system, each judge rating each contestant up to 100 points, to be divided as follows: Beauty, 30 points; figure, 30 points; poise and charm, 30 points; popularity, 10 points—total 100 points.

Concluding these festivities will be a street dance on Second avenue, with Emmy Emerson's orchestra furnishing the music for both round and square dancing.

The committee invites all girls between the ages of 17 and 21 county: 424 Cubs this year against 297 in 1951; 522 Scouts this year against 470 in 1951; and 79 Explorers this year against 46 in 1951, a grand total of 1,025.

Under health and safety, it was reported that medical re-checks will be taken at camp, and Commissioner C. C. Winans' report included introduction of three new commissioners, Shurl S. Glass, Walter Frederick and Bob Caldwell.

President Knapp announced the following forthcoming events: Board of Review, June 5, Warren Public Library; workfest at Camp Olmsted, June 7; participation in Flag Day exercises with the Elks, June 14; Camporee, June 21-22, at the Reynolds farm, Cherry Grove; inspection at Olmsted the day before camp opens, July 11; Executive Board meeting with the regional executive, Camp Olmsted, July 14; annual meeting of Region 3, Buck Hill Falls, Nov. 7-8; and the National Council, Los Angeles, July 8-10, in connection with the National Jamboree.

Corry High School Senior Is Winner Of Loblaws Scholarship to Cornell University

A Corry high school senior has won the second annual competition for the Loblaws Scholarship to Cornell University. Norman Merritt, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Merritt, Sr., of 341 Second street, Corry, has been notified by Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., of the award, which totals $500 a year for the number of years required to obtain a bachelor's degree in the school in which the recipient enrolls. Merritt will enter the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell in September, 1952.

Competition for the Loblaws Scholarship, awarded by Loblaws, Inc., the food store chain, is open each year to deserving students desiring to enter Cornell University. "Reference" among the finalists is given to qualified Loblaws employees or sons and daughters of Loblaws employees. In addition to the annual $500 award, the winner is offered part time work during the school year at the Loblaws super market located at Ithaca, and full time summer employment in a Loblaws super market in his home community.

The Loblaws Scholarship was established in 1950. The first student to receive the grant was Carmen Palermo, 725 Clifford avenue, Rochester, N. Y., who entered the College of Engineering at Cornell University in September, 1951. Mr. Merritt is the second Loblaws scholarship winner.

Norman Merritt has been employed at the Corry Loblaws for more than a year, working full time during the summer months, and part time during the school year. He won the scholarship in competition with eleven other Loblaws-associated high school seniors from New York State and Pennsylvania, as well as many other non-Loblaws applicants for the grant. His scholarship, administered by the Committee on Student Aid at Cornell, was determined on the basis of leadership promise and scholastic proficiency.

The third youngest of a family of seven children, Merritt has maintained good grades throughout his four years at Corry High school, taking five and six subjects at one time to further his academic training. He will graduate well up in his class this June, with 20 Carnegie units. Thirteen Carnegie units are required for high school graduation, and 16 units are recommended for college entrance.

In addition to his studies and outside work, Merritt has taken part in many high school activities, as a member of the Corry High school track team, boy's High-Y, traffic squad, and holding an office in his class room. His proficiency at the drums has led him to be named one of the best drummers in the Corry High school band in many years. He hopes to enroll in Cornell University's Big Red Band this fall.

Merritt attends the Corry Methodist church, where he sings in the choir. A member of the Boy Scouts for the past four years, he holds a first class badge. For some time he was active as a newspaper boy delivering the Corry Evening Journal, and is remembered in this regard as one of the most dependable of carriers. He has also worked for two summers on a farm.

While the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell University is tuition-free for residents of that state, Norman Merritt's annual $500 Loblaws Scholarship will be used in part to pay the $300 tuition for out-of-state students, with the balance helping defray his other college expenses.

Skills Contests Will Be Feature Events At Scout Camporee

The 1952 Camporee of Warren County Council, Boy Scouts of America, to take place June 21 and 22 at Cherry Grove, is described by Activities Chairman Frank Fago as "an old-fashioned Camporee." He has announced that Saturday afternoon, June 21, will be devoted to a Scouting Skills contest with both troop and individual awards for all winners.

The contests have been so selected that every boy present from Tenderfoot to Eagle Scout, may participate and win for his troop. There will be contests in Signaling, Fire Building, Compass, Tent Pitching, Wood Chopping, Knot Tying, Improvised Stretcher, First Aid, Fire by Flint and Steel, Fire by Friction, as well as relay races, three-legged races, wheelbarrow races, potato races and horse-and-rider races.

Don Lauffer's committee is doing some needed work in improving the spring at the campsite to insure an adequate supply of pure water.

Unusual Varieties Of Flowers Shown At Hill, Dale Club

Sugar Grove, June 2—Thirty-five members and guests attended the May meeting of the Hill and Dale Garden club, at the home of Mrs. John Ramsey, with Mrs. Arthur Cody, Mrs. J. A. The Nice Long Vacation

By William Neubauer

Chapter 14

THE tension mounted, but before the scene could degenerate into a brawl the clear tones of a bugle rang out over the camp. Jane whirled and looked over her shoulder at the flaps, then laughed. "Duty. Isn't it my duty to go out and lead Division A to victory? Why don't you come down to see the fun? Perhaps you should sit beside Mrs. Poppleton and tell her what a little beast I am."

"I have every intention of sitting beside her," Evelyn drawled. Jane scooped her robe from the cot and went down the stairs. She took the whistle from Ken's hand and went out in the skirt to the judge's float. As she stood before the microphone, looking at the people gathered along the shore, she tried to pick out a girl who would look the part of George's wife. But she gave that up as a bad job very quickly. "Ladies and gentlemen," she said, smiling at one and all: "First the blue units of each Division will run through their races—ladies first, as always. Then the red units of each Division will have at one another—and last, but certainly not least, there will be a free-for-all long-distance event. The most points win of course, and of course the decisions of our distinguished judges are final."

She stepped away from the microphone and sat down beside Dr. Bruce Hall. "Nice going," he drawled. "You sounded almost human. Incidentally, I understand Andy Bullitt and you and Ken are going to have at one another."

"He's puffy," she said quietly, nodding toward Andy Bullitt. "I suspect he eats a great deal of food."

"I wouldn't be misled," he warned.

"We'll see," she turned to watch. Bruce Hall chuckled. "Incidentally, if you really want to have a look at Mrs. Poppleton, why don't you ask me to point her out to you?"

"I've already spotted her. I think," Jane pointed. "She's sitting on the left side of Evelyn Moore, isn't she?"

He nodded, studying her, rather than looking toward Leslie Poppleton who made a rather pathetic sight when compared with this, her rival for her husband's love. "What do you think of her?"

"I can lick her, if that is what you are asking."

And the afternoon wore on; the girls gave way to the men and the swimmers finally gave way to the divers. As it became evident that the two sides were very evenly matched, excitement mounted and many a glance was directed at the recreation director, who was the sole entry in the long-distance race for Division A.

Tail, athletic, sure of herself, the girl rose as the score was being announced over the public address system and climbed down into the skiff.

"Ten to one!" Ken howled above the uproar as Jane's skiff approached the float. "Glory, I'll beat you or bust!"

But Andy Bullitt would have none of that. Towering over the tall Ken, he gave the young man a thump on the back. "Where's your sportsmanship, fellow? It isn't fair to make her race the two of us."

"Yeah, but listen—"

"Some other time, fellow."

THE gun sounded and they both plunged into Lake Champlain and came up easily into their strokes. Before a hundred yards had been covered it became evident to all who knew something about swimming that the two racers were very evenly matched. What Jane lacked in size, in strength, she more than made up for in downright skill, and of course Andy Bullitt's powerful arms pulled him along at a steady, rapid pace through the water. Bruce, who had really expected to see the girl defeated in the first hundred yards, let out a "whoosh" of surprise, and as they swept by the float he forgot he was a judge and leaned out over the water and roared: "It's a long swim, Jane; easy does it!"

To his astonishment, the girl coasted, winked roguishly at him, then went on again, half a foot or so behind Andy Bullitt but apparently not a bit concerned. Bruce gulped. He began to feel what George had felt, that there was a fighter, that here was a girl who would accomplish her purpose or perish in the attempt. He sat down, casting a worried eye at Leslie Poppleton who was dancing up and down in girlish excitement on the shore. Why had George played the fool? he wondered.

He rose and cheered as the two swimmers, still neck and neck, came down the home-stretch at last, swimming less rapidly now but still steadily. Jane had no intention of losing. Smiling, she looked at Andy Bullitt who had run out of wind, then buried her face into the water and plowed forward like a swimmer doing a sixty-yard sprint. She plowed forward to defeat him with some five yards to spare.

There was a roar on the shore, and all the members of the Division A team came splashing into the water to hoist her onto their shoulders.

"We've won!" howled Don Cunningham, the leader of the Division. "Holy smoke, we've won."

No one paid any attention to Andy Bullitt, that is, no one but Mrs. George Poppleton. Looking at him, she saw herself floundering along in the amazingly beautiful girl's wake, and the thought left her cold.

"I'll go home now," she said to Evelyn Moore. Mrs. Poppleton laughed harshly. "Why was she given everything? Why was I born with nothing?"

To Evelyn's consternation, she turned with a sob and hurried up the path to the place where she had parked her car. She had thought that strong opposition would bring Jane to her senses. Now she didn't know what to think. The girl had triumphed this Fourth of July afternoon, in more ways than one.

JUNE BRIDES

The radiant June bride, leaving the church with the man of her choice, is probably unaware of the part ancient Roman superstition played in her wedding date.

June is the most popular month for weddings in North America largely because the Romans considered it the most propitious season—especially around the time of the June full moon.

Rome considered May bad for marriage, the National Geographic Society observes, but the prejudice against that month has been overcome in Christian countries. In fact, May is considered the ideal marriage period in some European nations.

The Christian church helped in selection of May or June for marriage by frowning on weddings during Lent or other periods of fasting or penitence.

Today's June bride can consider herself lucky that she is being married in the 20th century instead of several hundred years earlier. The worst she has to do is dodge rice and shoes thrown in her direction.

In earlier times, particularly among the Anglo-Saxons, the bridegroom was given a shoe by the bride's father to denote a transfer in authority over the lady. By custom the gentleman tapped or struck his wife on the head to demonstrate his mastery.

Custom obliged the man to honor his lady, but it left no doubt as to the master of the household. One old law allows the bridegroom three broomstick blows on the bride's body, while another allows him to beat her with a stick no longer than his arm or thicker than his middle finger.

The new wife, tossing her bouquet to waiting bridesmaids, doesn't know how lucky she is. The bouquet—throwing replaces garter—snatching that sometimes proved damaging.

Old French custom granted the next marriage to the lass who made off with the bride's garter. Competition for this good luck token became fierce, and sensible brides who wished to avoid a possible mauling left a garter hanging loose and easily available.

Later, by prearrangement, brides started tossing stockings to bridesmaids. It meant the same thing, but it was difficult to remove a stocking from a wedding costume, and the bouquet became a substitute.

EXERCISE IN MODERATION

Exercise in moderation is good for most people but overexertion can be dangerous and is often fatal. The American Heart Association warns those it calls "vacation athletes" against the danger of participating in violent exercise after long periods of inactivity.

Most persons hate to admit that they are less capable of athletic endeavor than they once were. But the individual who spends most of his week at a desk and then takes to the golf course, tennis courts or beach with abandoned energy on weekends is inviting trouble. No intelligent person would operate a machine beyond the point of its endurance without giving proper attention to its maintenance. The human body, the most complicated machinery in the world, deserves the same careful treatment.

SEIZURE UNCONSTITUTIONAL

The Supreme Court decision nullifying the president's seizure of mills, hailed generally as a victory for the American way of life, presages a bitter, all-out strike that will completely shut down the vast steel industry, while the White House weighs its next peace move in the six-months-old union-management struggle. In the meantime the nation awaits the next move on the part of leaders of both industry and the striking CIO Steelworkers, looking toward renewed contract talks. However, as this was written, neither side had proposed a date for negotiations.

The Eyes of Tex:

Here And There

One day recently, a reader who appreciates the difficulties we encounter some times in trying to find worth while history for this column, brought to us a dozen old papers, copies of "Warren Monthly Nation" and "The Warren Sunday Mirror," some of them printed as far back as 1883. By a strange coincidence one of the copies of the latter is dated "Warren, Pa., June 3, 1883," 69 years ago today, the contents of which makes interesting reading at this time. For instance:

"The new Exchange Hotel, built on the site of the old Exchange building which was destroyed by fire two years ago, is without question one of the finest equipped institutions of its kind in this section of the country. No expense has been spared by the proprietor, Mr. George Leonhart, to make it complete in all its various departments, and a credit, as well as an ornament, to the city. The west side of the first floor consists of the business office, which is 22x30, and dining room. The east side, the bar-room, wash-room, baggage-room and kitchen. A magnificent carved black walnut counter, furnished by F. Bouchard and Son, of Erie, ornaments the office, and excites universal admiration. Ascending a heavy staircase from the office, the visitor is ushered into the west hall and public parlor situated immediately over the office on the second floor. Eight bedrooms and closets are connected with this hall. The main entrance to the upper floors from the street leads to a large and well-lighted hall, known as the east hall. Four splendid suites of rooms furnished with heavy black walnut furniture, closets, etc., are connected with this hall, constituting the most desirable rooms in the building. There is a large main hall on the third floor with four suites of rooms corresponding with the rooms on the second floor. There are also sixteen handsomely furnished bed rooms of fair size, and all well ventilated by skylights on this floor."

Under the heading "Decoration Day" there is a story which says: "Notwithstanding the threatening aspect of the weather the surrounding towns were well represented in our streets Wednesday last. Just before the time for the different organizations to move, a steady rain set in and continued during the balance of the afternoon. The procession marched to the cemetery, decorated the graves of the honored dead and proceeded to Roscoe Hall, where an appropriate, eloquent and able oration was delivered by the Rev. Bach, chaplain of Eben N. Ford Post, G. A. R., after which they were dismissed by the benediction by the Rev. P. S. Allen, of the Presbyterian church."

And here's another under the heading "Accident at The Ferry:" "A team and load of coal, owned by Wood & Thomas, coal dealers, fell into the creek through the neglect of the ferryman to make the boat fast. The boat glided into the stream as the horses were being driven on, the wagon load of coal pulling them back into the water. The horses were cut loose and swam out, and by running the other boat along side of the wagon, the coal was transferred and damage repaired."

And here are a few "shorts" that appeared under the stock heading "Warren Warbles:" The wire cable at Beatty's ferry broke last Thursday when the boat started running square against the current.

Prof. Rice is now teaching his last month of school at Clarendon. Efforts will be made to retain him longer, if his services can be secured.

Ice cream and strawberry festivals are now in order. Just received fancy vest patterns of the latest designs; great reduction in fancy suiting at Kellers, the tailor.

We're indebted to Bill Goudy for this reminder about the activities of the Russell Firemen's Band: "Thought you might like to know that the Russell Band marched in three parades this past week-end and also played special music on three occasions besides. The parades were at Warren, Friday morning, Russell, Friday afternoon and Pleasant Township Saturday evening." This is one of the musical organizations appearing in Warren's Community Flag Day parade Saturday evening of next week.

TELEVISION FOR THE BIRDS—Puzzled by this tiny TV antenna atop a bird house, four-year-old Tommy Geng, of Chicago, is wondering what video shows his feathered friends will see on the small set-up. Made by Tommy's brother-in-law, Paul Hollinger, the antenna was added to the bird house only to make it look modern, and not for utility.

HOLD TIGHT—Susie K., thought to be the first Kodiak bear ever raised on a bottle, is spreading her claws in Cleveland in order to get a good grip on zoo keeper George Menszyk, who feeds her. Susie K. was not yet accustomed to having her picture taken; she's just a little girl and, while she'll become camera-conscious soon, a flashbulb scares her now.

HUGE STAR SHOOTER—Henry Wildey's two-ton telescope looks as if it could be converted into a cannon strong enough to shoot the stars. The $5000 instrument, the most powerful in the amateur category in Britain, is being investigated in London by Wildey's two youngsters. It was presented to Wildey, who is astronomical secretary of a scientific society, by Dr. W. H. Steavenson of the Cambridge observatory. It has a motor, running equipment which allows for the earth's rotation.

About 400 scientists and employees stayed in the plant to continue research work and care for the animals while approximately 4500 employees were striking. Food and bedding were flown in by helicopter and monoplane to the plant which is the only producer of aureomycin in the country.

Public Is Invited To Special Services At Calvary Baptist

Calvary Baptist church, Redwood and Center streets, is host this week for a series of special services featuring 12 members of "God's Invasion Army," and extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

God's Invasion Army is made up of 54 young men and women from various parts of the United States and Canada who have volunteered a year of service, without salary, in the national program of evangelism of the Baptist General Conference of America.

The program of activities at Calvary church will include boys' and girls' meetings Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 8:45 p. m. There will also be evening meetings, to which the public is invited, on Wednesday and Friday evenings at 7:30. Special music will be given and testimonials by the God's Invasion Army team.

All members of the group are lay workers, except their director, Rev. Edward Nelson, of Chicago, director of evangelism of the Baptist Conference. These men and women, ranging from 18 to 35 years of age, have responded to a challenge, to give a year of their lives for definite Christian service. They are guaranteed only food and lodging for the 12 months that are spent in this service. They have left their regular employment for the year, to devote themselves to this work.

The work of this group has been recognized by many denominations as a pioneering venture in an attempt to make vital religion understandable to the average man.

Rev. Nelson, the director says, "There is a growing conviction in many religions, and even political circles, that we are seeing alarming evidences of a moral recession in America which needs immediate and drastic attention. Crime, gangsterism, political alignments with the lower elements of society, increased drunkenness, and dope addiction amongst the youth of our land, as well as the general apathy toward Christianity, indicate an inner decay in our country that cannot be ignored."

"We must realize that we are faced with enemies of our way of life who are armed with ideological weapons more dangerous than those forged of iron. Only as we have vital spiritual convictions can we as a people, hope to cope with the threatening materialistic philosophies of our day."

SILVER ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Newgreen, 104 Russell street, greeted more than 100 guests Saturday afternoon and evening in celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary. In addition to many greetings and telegrams, they were remembered with beautiful gifts of silver and money from relatives and friends, including out of town guests from Greensburg, Tidoute, Irvine, Youngsville, Sheffield, Pittsfield, New London, Conn.; Jamestown, N. Y., and Omaha, Neb.

Mrs. Newgreen received her guests in a frock of rose colored crepe and lace, with a corsage of white carnations. The home was beautifully decorated with white spirea, red roses, glads and iris in silver vases, and on the refreshments table was a three-tier wedding cake. With miniature bridal figures on its top and a garland of white flowers at its base, the cake was flanked by white candles in silver holders. Presiding were Mrs. William Weaver, Miss Florence Hansen, Mrs. Axel Christensen, and Mrs. O. Sundberg of Jamestown, with Mrs. Newgreen's sister, Mrs. C. M. Karr, of Omaha. Mrs. J. Stuart Karr, also of Omaha and niece of the couple, was in charge of the guest book.

Y-Teens All Set For Summer Camp

Plans are all set for the 1952 Y-Teen summer camp on Lake Chautauqua and Director Dorothy Collins reports a total registration far beyond the capacity of the camp.

After eliminating all non-Y-Teens and Y-Teens who had missed more than three club meetings during the year, the girls drew names to see who could go. The enrollment consists of 104 campers, 6 dishwashers, 21 counselors, 2 cooks, 1 nurse, assistant director, and a director, making a total of 134.

Camp will open Sunday afternoon, June 15, and close after dinner the following Sunday, Dorothy Collins will be director again this year, with Jean Spencer as her assistant. Mrs. Paul Myers is going to be the camp nurse and Mrs. Sara Swick and Mrs. Alice White will prepare the meals.

A capable staff of counselors has been chosen for the week. They are: junior counselors, Bev Chapman, Dawn Taft, Marcia Stevens and Norma Pierce; senior counselors, Cara Lay, Mary Deane, Nancy Geracimos, Barbara Anderson, Jackie Kitter, Charlotte Smith, Kay DeLong, Phyllis Most, Jean Morse, Harriet Carlson, A. J. Hawkins, B. J. Battaglini, Jean McDade, Patty Moran, Carolyn Humphreys and Fae Christiansen.

The varied activities offered the girls include swimming, boating, crafts, newspaper, worship, badminton, archery, volleyball, basketball, softball, dramatics, chorus, and hiking. A counselor will be assigned to each group of five girls.

Those who have registered for camp should have their medical blanks at the YW before June 13 and are asked to pay the balance due on their camp fee at this time. The camp operates on non-profit basis in order that as many girls as possible may benefit from the camping experience.

Plane in Trouble In Meadville Area

Two forced landings within four hours and within a few miles of each other were the lot of Air Force Sgt. John McClymont, of Sampson Air Force Base at Geneva, N. Y., as he was flying his private plane near Meadville late yesterday afternoon.

Headed for his home base at the conclusion of a leave, McClymont ran out of gas and was unable to locate the Meadville airport. He skidded under some high tension utility wires and set his Cessna down in a field unhurt.

Taking on some fuel, he attempted a take off to the Meadville airport, but lost his guide plane in the gathering darkness and was forced down again near the Keystone Ordnance Works plant. He was not so lucky the second time. Although McClymont was uninjured, his plane suffered a crumpled left wing and nose, and a broken propeller as he applied the brakes and nosed over.

At the time of the first landing, state police from the Meadville station secured some gasoline for McClymont. They are continuing to aid him in repairs to the plane today, with the help of a repair shop from the Sampson base.

McClymont, a native of Scotland, has taken out naturalization papers and expects to become an American citizen in about 15 months. He is of the opinion that it doesn't pay to be too thrifty about fuel when flying.

PLEASANT FIREMEN DISCUSS ADDITION

The possibilities of erecting an addition to the Pleasant township fire hall, to be used as a community center, was brought before the membership at its regular meeting last evening in the fire hall. No definite action will be taken on the project, however, until a later session.

Routine business taken up by the group included reports on the weekend parade and carnival. Parade Chairman Frank Valle expressed his thanks to all who had taken part in the parade and staging of the carnival to insure the success of both projects.

Communication on a Subject of Vital Interest

I have been told that the X-ray equipment at the hospital is antique and should be entirely replaced by new and modern machines. There is no equipment for deep X-ray therapy, for the treatment of deep-seated cancer, tumors and similar disorders. That $8,000 would go a long way toward purchasing new and modern equipment. Modern surgical equipment is also badly needed.

It has been reported that one of those at the head of the drive to raise funds to build the addition to the hospital made the statement that "I don't give a damn for the small contributors, as we rely on the big manufacturers and wealthy people of the town for the funds to go ahead with building the hospital." I wonder how some of the people who contributed $10 and $25 and by so doing deprived themselves of a much needed piece of clothing, food or other household necessities, are going to like what this person said.

Very truly yours,
Another Citizen.

Ken Whisner, Former Manager of Red Jackets, Now Coach in Florida, Returns to Warren

Reminiscent of the days between 1947 and '49 when the Red-jackets were making football history in the area, Ken Whisner and family, including his wife, the mer Eileen Turner, and two children, Timothy aged 6, and James 5, arrived in town from St. Petersburg, Fla., over the weekend. Ken, it will be remembered, managed the Jackets when they were considered the outstanding pro grid team in this part of the state, meeting and beating comers. Incidentally, he is a dupe of Warren High school in the class of 1937.

Ken says he has been at West Palm Beach since leaving Warren. He was assistant coach at St. John's High school and held down the job on the side with the circular department of the Palm Beach Post-Times, recalling that when he was in Warren he was local circulation manager of the Erie Dispatch-Herald.

KEN WHISNER
—Timesphoto by Saylor.

This fall Ken takes over the job as head coach and athletic director at St. Anne's, starting September first.

He says that last year he was slated with the Florida East Coast Athletic Officials' Association, and was kept busy refereeing football and basketball in and around West Palm Beach. There were no daytime football games in that section, he says, and there is a lot of baseball. West Palm Beach has a team in the Florida International Baseball League, playing night ball, and he says any of the "Little Leagues" and of Stove Leagues have their fields with lights for night games.

Ken will be heading back south in the next week or two for season conferences, but his only visit will remain in Warren for extended visit with Grandfather Grandmother Turner, 111 Maryland avenue west.

Errors Threaten Merchants In Beating Youngsville, 8 to 7

The Warren Merchants blasted two Youngsville pitchers for 12 hits last night, in a Sunset League fray at Wilder Field, but seven errors nearly cost them their victory as they nosed out the home team 8 to 7.

It was the Warren nine's third win in four starts for a substantial league lead, while the loss put the Youngsville team deeper in the cellar with a record of one won and three defeats.

Don Baldensperger was the big man at the plate for Warren, pounding out three for three, but also had three of the seven errors registered along with Campman. Bill Massa had a good night with two for three times at the plate, while Joe Randinelli slammed three for four to lead the Youngsville lineup, and came home twice.

Methodist, Phalanx Teams Triumph In YM-Church League

Plenty of action took place in the YMCA-Church League on the Beatty diamonds, last night, the First Methodists remaining undefeated with a 16-10 triumph over Bethel EUB, and the Phalanx Fraternity taking first win by trimming Grace Methodist 11 to 7.

Only the second game of the campaign for the frat boys, the victory revenge an earlier 13-8 setback at the hands of the Grace players, whose only other defeat was by First Methodist.

Bob Brumagim and Gordie Hanks each slammed two singles and a triple to pace the Phalanx hitting, while Main hit three for five for the losers.

Each going all nine innings, Gail Grinnell was credited with the win, and Erv Rader the loss.

In the First Methodist-Bethel game, Jim Potter proved the big man for the winners when he hit four for five, including a round-tripper.

Successful Horse Show Draws Crowd of 2,000 to Columbus; 126 Entered in Many Events

No-Bar Saddle Club members sponsored a very successful Horse Show Sunday at the Columbus grounds, with 126 horses and ponies entered in the competition and 2,000 spectators to enjoy the various classes presented.

Judge for this first show of the season was Don Gray, Buffalo, N. Y., with Robert Cran, Titusville, as ringmaster and James Frantz, Warren, as announcer.

Among winners of the day's events were a number of mounts owned by No-Bar and Y-Bar-U Saddle Club members, others coming from outside the immediate area.

Challenge trophy winners were determined during the evening hours of the show, the open jumping class award going to Pat, owned by Max Manwaring, of Bear Lake, with Jerry Aquist's Good Omen in third place and Bill Fitzgerald's Tim in fourth.

Guiffre's Unbeaten After Winning From Thomas Team, 8-5

Guiffre's Grocery remained undefeated with four wins in the Industrial Softball League, last night, when they defeated Thomas Coupling 8 to 5 on the West End diamond.

Bob Harrison stood the mound duty all the way for the winners, allowing only eight hits, while Littlefield was hit 13 times going the full nine for Thomas.

Leading 5 to 2 at the end of three innings, Guiffre's had their margin chopped to 5-4 in the fourth and fifth, but came back with three for insurance in the seventh to the loser's one.

S. Rich and R. Scalise were the big guns for the winners with three for five, the former hitting the only homer in the game.

Claim Broadcasts May Spell End Of Amateur Athletics

New York (AP)—The "financial pressures" created by television are so great that they may spell the end of amateur football unless they are checked.

That is the conclusion reached by the 10-man National Collegiate A. A. Television Committee which has been working for three months to draw up a football television control program for 1952.

As a temporary measure, the plan, now in the hands of the NCAA members for approval, will limit each college to a single appearance on TV this season. Before next year the committee hopes to develop an even more rigid program of controls.

The 1952 plan, much less complicated than the 1951 "experimental" program, includes these provisions:

(1) Network telecasting of a series of 12 games, on Saturday afternoons and Thanksgiving Day from September 20 to November 29.

(2) Only one game will be carried each day, except that on as many dates as practicable small college games shall be included on a local basis, either supplementing or replacing series games.

(3) Games in series shall be widely distributed geographically.

Cafeteria Director Resigns Position

The board of directors of the Warren YWCA has accepted with regret the resignation of one of its staff members who came to help out during a weekend and stayed for more than 37 years.

She is Mrs. Freda Anderson, 500 East street, whose resignation as cafeteria director will become effective on July 1st.

Mrs. Anderson, known to most of the community, not only for the fine service received in the "Y" cafeteria but for the excellent meals she has planned and prepared for private dinners, has given on 37½ years of faithful service to the association.

Her retirement will be a loss not only to the YW staff but to the community itself.

A Canvas Hose Which Leaks Serves as a Portable Irrigation Ditch.

Keep Water Off Leaves For Good Garden Health

So far as the outdoor garden is concerned, modern research has established the validity of the old gardener's maxim: "Give a plant a drink when it's dry."

But phytopathologists, or plant doctors, are insisting that so far as possible water should be applied directly to the soil, without wetting the leaves of plants. Drops of water thrown by a sprinkler scatter the fungi, they explain, and when the leaves are damp at nightfall, darkness and dampness combine to favor the spread of disease.

A good soil holds both water and air at the same time. These are held in spaces between the soil particles, called "pores." When there is an excess of water, air is driven out, and the plants suffer for lack of it. This occurs in gardens when water stands on the surface, and is the reason why quick drainage of excess water is so important.

Lack of water, on the other hand, is also harmful to the plants. A balance between air and water must be maintained. A plant will make the best root growth when it is drying the soil down. When the soil is soaked, and the excess drains away quickly, fresh air enters the soil to take the place of the water. The roots reach out for the water as the supply diminishes, and vigorous growth results.

Every watering should be thorough enough to wet the soil as deep as the roots go, at least. This cannot be done by sprinkling a brief period every day; that is bad watering practice because it moistens only the top few inches of soil, and encourages root growth near the surface where the soil dries out quickly. The soil must be soaked deeply whenever rainfall is insufficient to provide abundant water. That means, when less than one inch each week falls on the garden in summer time.

Let the hose run without a sprinkler, so that the water falls upon a board which scatters it and prevents washing out a gully; or use a canvas hose which leaks all along its length and serves as a portable irrigation ditch.

In growing melons and tomatoes, many amateurs find that by sinking a tile into the ground near each hill, before the seed is sown, they can simplify the task of watering. Water poured into the tile is carried immediately down to the deepest roots, and this often results in exceptional growth.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

AP Newsfeatures
FOR A SMALL FAMILY, this house with two bedrooms on the main floor has an expansion attic with space for a large future bedroom to accommodate family growth. The house covers only 833 square feet without garage and in simple rectangular shape it should be economical to build. Porch and garage give the house a long and rambling appearance. It is planned with a full basement with stairs convenient to service entrance and kitchen. This is Plan 1504 by William G. Chirgott, architect, 968 Stuyvesant Ave., Union, N. J.

LET AMERICAN BUSINESS WORK FOR YOU

Today, the ownership of our great corporations rests largely in the hands of citizens in all walks of life. How did this come about?

Simply because more and more people have found that it pays to put their dollars to work in American Business. There are many opportunities for sound investment . . . but to find them you must have the facts.

To speculate one might take a chance on buying one single stock but it is much safer and more prudent to spread any risk by buying an interest in upwards of 100 different stocks in one certificate of one of the leading investment trust funds where you can thus receive diversification and supervision by experienced management.

Call, phone or write to our office and receive full information on any of the leading investment trust funds. It is free for the asking . . . no obligation, of course.

Allegheny, Mother of Rail Presidents, Gets the Cyrus K. Holliday Scholarship

Meadville—The son or daughter of a Santa Fe Railway employee will be awarded a full tuition scholarship at Allegheny College according to an announcement by officials of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad. The scholarship award comes as commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the graduation from Allegheny of the railroad's founder, Cyrus K. Holliday.

A native of Carlisle, Penna., Holliday founded the Santa Fe and became its first president. After receiving his degree from Allegheny in 1852 he was admitted to the Crawford County bar. One of Holliday's early legal assignments involved drafting the contracts and charters for the railroad through Meadville which later became part of the Erie Railroad system.

Anticipating the great westward expansion by several years (Holliday traveled to Kansas to found a town and build a railroad. The first ambition was realized in the settlement of Topeka. Always active in local and state affairs, Holliday served as justice of the peace, delegate to state political conventions, and three-time mayor of the city. In addition, he acted as adjutant-general of Kansas during the Civil War.

Long troubled by the need of Kansas for an efficient railway system, Holliday called representatives of Kansas communities together for a convention to consider the problem in 1860. This meeting was the jumping off point for what developed; for, after the conventions and bond issues, the congressional petitions and the bickering, came the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway system. Holliday had lived to see his dream of a railroad from Missouri to the Pacific coast come true.

Holliday is one of several Allegheny graduates who later became prominent in the field of railroad-ing. William Reynolds, class of 1837, was president of the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad that formed the connecting link from Salamanca to Akron, a unit of the present Erie Railroad. John F. Duncombe, a classmate of Holliday, was president of the Fort Dodge and Omaha Railroad. Arthur W. Thompson, class of 1897, was vice-president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in charge of operations. William S. Twining, class of 1887, was chief engineer in charge of building the subway and elevated railway system of Philadelphia. Frank T. Darrow, class of 1897, was chief engineer of the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy Railroad. Paul W. Johnston, class of 1914, is now president of the Erie Railroad. Mr. Johnston is presently serving as chairman of the Allegheny College Development Program.

The recipient of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe scholarship will be chosen by officials of the railroad in cooperation with the Allegheny admissions office.

Candy Bars Given Hospital Patients By N. Y. Publisher

Patients at the Warren State Hospital are again the recipients of a pleasant gift from a man none of them have ever seen. He is Jerry Vogel, the New York song publisher, among whose publications are all the works of the famous George M. Cohan.

The announcement says Mr. Vogel sent 3023 individual candy bars, one for each patient in the Warren State Hospital. The candy was distributed following dinner on Memorial Day and many expressions of pleasure were heard from the patients. It is Mr. Vogel's unusual hobby to send gifts of candy to people who are sick in hospitals of all types. Many dozens of institutions throughout the country have received such gifts from him. The Warren State Hospital on two earlier occasions has received shipments of candy from Mr. Vogel.

It is the music publisher's practice to dedicate each such gift to one of his friends. On the occasion of the gift last week to the State Hospital patients, Mr. Vogel wrote the following to the hospital:

"Every now and then it's my great pleasure to pay honor to an outstanding personality—and today is one of those occasions. On May 26rd we will all sing 'Happy Birthday, Walter Keefe'. He is general sales manager for Henry Heide Inc., makers of quality candy. He's a grand guy, a stunch friend and has been of great help to the Jerry Vogel foundation. May God bless him with good health, good luck and happiness for many years to come."

Franz Schubert used the guitar to work on his compositions, being too poor to own a piano.

Diplomas Given At Commencement In Pittsfield Church

Cole Hill, June 2—The annual eighth grade commencement of the students of the Pittsfield township was held in the UB church at Pittsfield.

The church, filled beyond capacity, was beautifully decorated with flowers and banners of the class colors of blue and white decorating the altar. Pictures were taken of the class and during the program by several students of the Youngsville High school. Thirteen students of the Pittsfield school received their diplomas under the supervision of their teacher, Mrs. Tressa Jones. Robert Radecki was honored as valedictorian and there were two salutatorians, Helen Hill and Mary Ann Kwiatkowski. The other ten were: Barbara Woodin, Betty Leofski, Clara Mae Wentworth, Mary Bailey, Barbara Haight, Patricia Durlin, Marilee Sutton, Richard Fehlman, Charles Perrin, and Forest Hockenberry.

The program was as follows: Accordion music by Charles Fehlman, freshman in Youngsville High school; song, "Faith of Our Fathers," by seventh and eighth grades of Pittsfield school with Clara Mae Wentworth, eighth grade pianist, at the piano; song in repeat, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" with Carol Haight of the seventh grade accompanying the pianist with her guitar; invocation, Rev. Wayne Rothwell, pastor of the UB church; songs, David Dunkle, Frank Danuskie, Richard Nelson and Donald Kirk, students of the junior class of the Youngsville high school, who have become popular in this community for entertainment since getting organized last fall; welcome, Helen Hill; poem, Mary Ann Kwiatkowski; class history, Barbara Haight; songs, seventh and eighth grades; class will, Forest Hockenberry; class prophecy, Marilee Sutton; class domo, Betty Leofsky and Barbara Woodin; music by Margaret Orbanick on her accordion; song, "Lonely Little Robin," seventh and eighth grades; valedictorian address, Robert Radecki; class poem, Clara Mae Wentworth.

Rev. Wayne Rothwell, pastor of the church, then gave a very interesting address to the class.

Following Rev. Rothwell's address, a song, "America the Beautiful," seventh and eighth grades. Benediction by Rev. Rothwell.

Members of the graduation class presented their teacher, Mrs. Tressa Jones, with a fine bed spread which she unwrapped and showed the audience.

Charles and Frances Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wentworth and daughter, Charlotte, attended baccalaureate services in the Methodist church in Youngsville. Charlotte Wentworth sang with the junior class at the church.

Next Sunday evening Rev. Howard Cartwright, missionary, will show slides of pictures at Camp Duhring which were taken at the Camp meeting last summer in the Torpedo Community church following his preaching services.

Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Fornell and the latter's sister, Mrs. Mary White, of Jamestown, accompanied by Elmer Vicander, of Youngsville, were visiting friends on the hill Saturday.

Rev. and Mrs. Howard Cartwright and Charlotte Wentworth attended church services at Eagle Rock, Sunday evening.

Willis Wentworth and daughters, Clara Mae, Dora and Sarah, attended Memorial Day services in Tidouche cemetery.
